

Cosima Analyze - Decisions at your fingertips !

cosima
makes your business flow

Cosima was established in 1990 offering a new generation of business software. Our goal is to fully implement a value chain solution in your business which serves your business processes and resources. Cosima Analyze is developed to be adapted quickly and easily to match your existing 3rd party implementations, and along with your unique benefits and competition advantages, can secure your goal of becoming the market leader.

Cosima Analyze (Business Performance)

Cosima Analyze is made as a template with pre-defined key figures in analyses, by use of the data source in one of the basic modules in Cosima ERP/SME. It is very easy to adapt the graphs and user-modify them to match optimal usage per client site. Cosima Analyze is created for use with other ERP and in-house built software as it has only open data source connections.

All key-figures together !

Cosima Analyze can be delivered as either a standard solution or as a template. It can also be connected to any number of data sources, also web-server and database traffic sources. These users find all information in simple graphs and pivot-reports showing all details and logs with historical and actual status. In the standard version, all financial key figures are shown - results, budgets, income analyses, cost analyses, all with "drill down" as needed.

Cosima has delivered over 100 software installations.
Our references are your guaranty.

Cosima Analyze is one of few templates on the market of BI. It has a user-friendly view of all graphs in a dashboard !

Analyze

Common for all businesses today is the increase in competition and the focus on margins. This demands that "all" information must be available for "all". This then gives productivity gains in your value chains. When employees on all levels receive actual information, your business speeds up.

Challenge

Most businesses have key information spread across many sub-systems. Gathering information when a client calls you can be stressful. You should instead be able to quickly retrieve required information and see potential opportunities, instead of needing to look into several sources of information.

Solution

Cosima Template, for your actual market segment, gives you all the information on the client in one single window. It groups the details from high to low level of importance, with direct visualisation of the value chains the client is part of. This gives your staff a quick visual understanding of your client's situation and behavior. You may actually have a campaign which is able to match his wishes !

Why chose Cosima Analyze ?

Your business is unique and you have a grip on the market by having a competitive advantage. But, and its always a but, you realise that today's software solution limits and reduces future growth and success. Perhaps one of your issues is the reduced access to online information due to data being spread around in several data sources. A typical situation is to have your clients stored in several databases.

Cosima Template allows you to focus on growth and to easily be able to adapt your core system after merger or take-over situations. Most companies loose control due to the merging of new value chains

Based on open IT standards !

Choose your technology :

* Windows-version and/or Internet

* Database: SQL Server, Sybase, Oracle, Informix, DB2, ODBC ...

What is an Template ?

Our clients realise the importance of their core business system. In several situations, most off-the-shelf software needs to be adapted to match new, changing markets. An template is 70-90% complete in regard to its capability of fully matching all client's demands. This is especially true for most market leaders, as they have internally and externally established competitive edges which are very important for their success. With our technology and skills, we can adapt our ERP software in hours, whereas our competitors would use days.
