ERP

Common for small and large organisations are low staffing levels combined with the need for high efficiency. The employee needs fast access to the right information.

Challenge

Most organisations have key information spread across many sub-systems. It therefore takes a long time to find information on a customer or an order which is being enquired on. Is the order delivered, in production, on order and when will the customer receive his item ?

Solution

Cosima ERP for your specific branch gives you all the information on the customer in an overview window. The customer's connections to all your value chains is shown, together with all details, statuses and all previous interactions. This allows the individual user to give the most optimal response to the customer. Perhaps you have a special offer which would suit the customer ?

Why choose Cosima ERP ?

Cosima is the first softwarehouse offering a full value chain based ERP solution in the market. The solution include all modules like customer/sales follow-up, accounts, orders, stock and invoicing. This means that all data is gathered in one place, and is available to all users who have permission to see it. The customer is registered in one place, and as required, can easily see all his key data as well as whether the customer is active.

Cosima ERP is optimised for businesses with ambitions of large growth and which want to avoid bottlenecks in their system when the number of orders doubles, or perhaps exports become a reality, with new demands on currencies.

Based on open IT standards !

What is an Template ?

Our clients have experienced how important an administration system is. They have felt the need for small and more comprehensive system changes, But they have been locked in to their system. A component template is 100% or 70-90% complete in regard to its matching a client's demands. With our extremely effective tools, which are based on Microsoft standards, modifications can be made in minutes rather than in days or weeks.
